What You Need to Know about COVID-19 if You are Incarcerated/Detained

COVID-19

COVID-19 is an illness caused by a new virus (SARS-CoV-2) that can spread from person to person and has spread across the world.

- Many people who have COVID-19 do not feel sick.
- For those who do feel sick, some signs and symptoms of COVID-19 include:
  - Fever/chills
  - Cough
  - Feeling tired
  - Having a hard time breathing
  - Pain in the head or body
  - Loss of taste or smell
  - Sore throat
  - Stuffy or runny nose
  - Nausea/vomiting
  - Diarrhea

How COVID-19 Spreads

The virus spreads through droplets in the breath ("respiratory droplets") when a person with COVID-19 breathes, coughs, sneezes, talks, or sings within about 6 feet (two arm lengths) of other people. Respiratory droplets containing the virus can land in the mouth, nose, or eyes of people who are close by.

People may also be able to get the virus by touching something with the virus on it, then touching their mouth, nose, or eyes.

People at Risk For COVID-19

Anyone can get infected.

Older adults and people with certain medical problems tend to get sicker with COVID-19. Some of these medical problems include:

- Cancer
- Chronic kidney disease
- Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD)
- Sickle cell disease
- Heart problems
- Obesity
- Smoking
- Type 2 diabetes mellitus
What You Can Do to Reduce Exposure

Try to stay at least 6 feet (two arm lengths) from others, especially people from a different housing unit.

When out of your cell, you must wear your mask that covers your nose and mouth.

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds, especially after coughing, sneezing, or blowing your nose; after using the bathroom; before eating; before and after preparing food; and before taking medicine.

Cough and sneeze into your elbow or a tissue, and throw the tissue in a trash can.

Avoid sharing eating utensils, dishes, and cups.

Try to sleep opposite, sleep head to foot when multiple beds are in a room. This gives you more space between your face and others around you.

Most of you have been tested for the virus with a swab in your nose. If you are infected with the virus, you may be moved to another area.
