

A Day's Schedule at...

York CCC

A typical day for reentrants begins around 0615 hours (6:15 am). They wake up and stand for count. After count, some stay up and work on their cleaning detail. Cleaning inspection is conducted daily at 0840 hours (8:40 am). After inspection, reentrants who passed may sign out for the day. Their specific sign-out depends on their level within the STAR policy. Reentrants who did not pass inspection must first fix their cleaning detail and then may leave.

If a reentrant is not yet employed, he will spend the day searching for employment. An employed reentrant will be signed out for work and utility leave. Many reentrants have treatment required by the Bureau of Community Corrections or parole and that is included in their daily sign-out. Reentrants who need to meet with their counselor generally do so before signing out for the day. This is not always possible, so counselors are available during the evening several nights per week.

When sign-out is finished, reentrants return to the center for the remainder of the day. The basement of the center has a full kitchen, laundry facilities and a TV room. Many reentrants spend the majority of the evening downstairs cooking and socializing. There is also another TV room on the first floor available for reentrant use after business hours. There are vending machines and a water cooler in that room. Reentrants are allowed to be in common areas until 2300 hours (11 pm) weekdays and 0000 hours (midnight) on Fridays and Saturdays.
